St. Johns, N. B., June 30.—The four-mile single scull race between Rich Nagle, of St. Johns, and John McKay, of Halifax, for $250 aside, on the Kennebeccassis, resulted to-day in a victory for McKay by six or seven lengths. Time—29:55. McKay at the end of a mile and a half rowed his opponent down, and scored an easy victory. Nagle became sick at the stomach after he entered on semi-annual interest on Pseific railroad currents.

LONDON, June 30.-This is the first day o the Henley-on-Thomes Royat Regatta, the most important gathering of amateur oars-men in England. The weather is beautiful, with soft, cool breezes, and the water is in splendid condition. The river is crowded with crafts of every description. FOR THE STEWARDS CUP.

The first heat in the race for the Stewards Cup was won by the Thames Club crew by a length, they having Berks Station; the London Club crew came in second, four lengths ahead of the Cornell University crew, who finished a third. A message received from Henley just before the start for the first heat for the Stays of the Cornell University crew, who finished a third. A message received from Henley just before the start for the first heat for the Stewards Cup says: "All the Americans are well, but the wind, as well as their station, is unfavorable. Un-fortunately, a new and lighter boat which was expected a week ago only arrived this morning, and is, consequently, unavailable. ANOTHER ACCOUNT gives the first heat for the Stewards Cup having been won by two lengths, and declares the Cornell crew were six lengths be-hind. In the second heat for the Stewards Cup the Hereford College crew, having Berks station, beat the Leander crew by three engths. Of the eleven heats in the various vents rowed to-day, it is notable that not one was won by a crew having Bucks sta-ion. Nine heats were won by the holders of Berks station and two by the holders of the center station. The disadvantage of sta ion is strongly shown in the case of the Leander crew, who were the pick of the old university oarsmen. FOR THE GRAND CHALLENGE CUP. In the first heat for the Grand Challenge Cup for eights, the Hereford College crew, having the Berks station, defeated the Dublin University. There was a good struggle until within a few lengths from the bend of the river, when the Herefords won easily. In the second heat the London Club, Thames Club and Kingston Club crews finished in the order named. The Londons had the center station and the Kingstons the Berks station, The Londons led from the bend of the river FOUR OF THE HEBEFORD COLLEGE CREW who rowed in the race for the Grand Challenge Cup will form a crew in the race for the Stewards Cup. They are Roberts, Buck, Brown and Launder. The same is the ca e with the Thames and London Ciubs crew, whose stroke in the race for the Grand Challenge Cup will row as number two in their respective crews in the contest for the Stew-ards Cup. The Leander Club crew will also comprise a four who will be engaged in the race for the Stewards Cup. West, who rowed stroke in the Grand Challenge race, will also row stroke in the Stewards. A Henley corrow stroke in the stewards. A Henley cor-respondent telegraphs the following correct order of the Cornell crew in their boat to ap-pear as follows: Cowies, bow; then Lewis, Allen and Shinkel stroke. The Cornell crew are despondent; their opponents are too good for them. The question of the Cornell College crew.

FOR THE VISITORS CUP. In the first heat of the race for the Viitors Challenge Cup, the First Trinity Col-lege crew of Cambridge were defeated by the Third Trinity College crew of Cambridge. FOR A SILVER GOBLET.

In the race for the Silver Goblet for pairs, the first heat was easily won by the London Club crew pair, consisting of Adcock and Playford, who had Berk's station, defeating the French pair. The Hereford College crew Buck's station, were out of the race before Poplar Point was reached.

In the second heat of the race for the Diamond Sculls, for scullers, Launder, of the Hereford College crew, who is to row in the race for the Secretards Cup, defeated his two opponents, who are members of the London Rowing Club, In any event to-day's rowing shows that the Americans will have to contend with all the best men at the regatta.

Americans will have to contend with all the best men at the regatta.

NOT AT ALL COMPLIMENTARY.

The Newsays: "It is only in direct violation of the rules of the Henley Begatta that the Cornell crew are allowed to compete, but they are by no means dangerous. They row in a cramped or jerky style, but tolerably well together. Their pace, however, is slow."

HOW THE CORNELIS LOST.

The following are the details of the first heat for the Stewards Cup. The Cornell crew sprang away splendidly, and was ahead on the first few strokes, when the boat of the London Club crew fouled them, cutting a hole in the canvas of the Cornell boat. The umpire at once stopped the race and much delay ensued. It was found that one of the seats of the Cornell boat was displaced, and it had to be remedied with some string from the umpire's boat. At the second start the London Club crew got off first. The Cornell crew, to avoid another contretemps, made for the bushes on Buck's side. They rowed very well to the Rectory, but there commenced serious bad steering, which utterly destroyed their chance. The Thames Club crew, rowing in grand form from that point, forged persistently shead, ultimately winning the heat. Time of the winning crew—8:50. Time of the winning crew—8:49. From a comparison of various accounts, it appears that the Cornell crew were in front for half the distance of the course, and it appears the boats were closer together at the finish than stated in the first accounts, the Cornells being from two to three lengths behind the London Club crew.

The third heat of the Diamond Scull race was won by Wild, of Frankfort, defeating Pattinson, of Newcastle, and Lien, of Paris.

The Jamel-Jumble Settled. New York, June 30.—After a long and protracted litigation, Judge Barrett to-day gave a decision in the Supreme Court de-creeing the sale of the old Madame Jumel preperty, the possession of which has been contested by heirs since 1865. The present suit was brought by William Inglis Chase and wife against Nelson Chase, his wife and others. The property consists of 1400 lots in different parts of the city.

Due to a Bad Bridge. CITY OF MEXICO, June 30.—Colonel O. Bergon, commissioned to investigate the cause of the Moreels railroad accident, declares the actual and sole cause of the disas ter was the very bad construction of the bridge. Collections are being made for the relief of the sufferers,
